CULTURED STONE BY AUSTECH THE PERFECT WAY TO GIVE YOUR FIREPLACE A LIFT

Looking for a way to brighten up your fireplace?

Look no further than Cultured Stone, the world's leading man-made stack stone product, now available in NSW, exclusively from Austech External Building Products.

Cultured Stone stacked stone is available in a variety of textures and colours to enable you to create your dream fireplace and chimney setting.

Cultured Stone has an array of other applications in new constructions and renovations. It is excellent for stone walls, as a landscaping element, as an alternative to cladding for external feature walls, and for interior feature walls and entries.

"We offer many textures and colours and meet over a dozen of the strictest code requirements, which gives users a vast array of design options," said Chuck Stein, president of Owens Corning Cultured Stone.

"When you combine such quality and choice, you're going to have a winning product."
